

MUSEUM HET REMBRANDTHUIS

Information and Prices 2021

Visit Rembrandt Harmenszoon van Rijn's home and workshop. For twenty years the Netherlands' greatest artist lived and worked in this impressive building in the heart of Amsterdam, now a museum. The Rembrandt House Museum gives visitors a complete Rembrandt experience. With a seventeenth-century inventory as a guide, the house has been meticulously refurbished with furniture, art and objects from that time. The museum has an almost complete collection of Rembrandt etchings and stages inspiring exhibitions about Rembrandt, his predecessors, contemporaries and pupils. The Rembrandt House Museum is also a venue for exhibitions of work by contemporary artists—artists who have been inspired by the work of Rembrandt, their seventeenth-century predecessor. Come and meet him in his own home.

Museum shop

Our museum shop sells a range of Rembrandt catalogues, books and reproduction etchings, as well as luxury gifts specially designed and produced for The Rembrandt House Museum. There is a webshop as well, at webshop.rembrandthuis.nl.

Duration of visit

A visit to The Rembrandt House Museum takes approximately 1 to 1,5 hours.

Cloakroom

The cloakroom is unguarded. Small safes are available. Suitcases cannot be accommodated.

Facilities for the Disabled

The accessibility to Rembrandt's old house is difficult for the disabled, due to the many floors and narrow staircases. The exhibition rooms in the new wing can be reached by elevator. There is a reduced admission charge for the disabled (€ 7,50 p.p.). It is not possible to park in front of the museum: A parking place for the disabled is located nearby (ca. 200 m) at Waterlooplein. The museum has a special toilet for the disabled.
